Whitehall, December 18. 1723.

“ W Hereas his Majesty's Letters Patents have been granted to Dr. ROBERT EATON, for vending his Balsamick Styptick, in regard of its General Usefulness for the Army, Navy, Publick Hospitals, Private Families, &c. An Account of its Efficacy is now published.
“ It cures all External Bleedings, and fresh Wounds, in a Superior Manner to other Stypticks; nor is it less Safe, but Speedy and Effectual in all Bleedings from Inward Causes whatsoever, viz. Spitting and Vomiting Blood, Bleeding from the Nose, Bloody-Flux, and other like Infirmities, and all other Cases of the Female Sex. It is a Cordial, it keeps its Vertue for a long Time, and is disposed of by the Author only.

Another ABSTRACT from
A Treatise of Consumptions, and other Distempers belonging to the Breast and Lungs. By Sir Richard Blackmore, Kt. M. D. and Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians. London, Printed 1724. Preface, p. 17, 18.

“ ----- It is much to be lamented, that this Useful and Important Art [of Physick] should be improved so little in so many Centuries, and that its State should still continue so Uncertain and Imperfect: We have hitherto discovered few Remedies of a peculiar Specificall Virtue, for the Cure of any Diseases. I confess Dr. EATON's, Balsamick Styptick, if future Success confirms the Reputation it hath justly gain'd by many Tryals made by others, as well as my self, bids fair for the Credit of a Certain Remedy for stopping of Blood Outwardly, or Inwardly, where the Crasis of the Blood is not entirely ruined; and will be of more Service to Mankind, than all the Discoveries made by Galenical Compounders of Drugs, and Systematical Methodists.

THE ACT OF PARLIAMENT passed last Sessions, April the 24th, exempts this Medicin from the Inspection of the Censors of the College of Physicians, who are thereby empowered to Search and Censure other Drugs and Medicins.

N. B. It is made and disposed of at 7s. 6d. the Pint Bottle, and other Quantities at proportionable Prices; with Directions for its Outward or Inward Use by the Author, at present, in Coleman-street; but Warehouses in a short Time will be opened, for the more commodious dispensing the same; of which publick Notice will be given in the London Journal.
